ANNOUNCEMENTS.

To the Voters of Sedgewick County.
I am a candidate for the office of county superintendent, subject to the decision of the people at the polls. Men have been given lucrative offices in this county because they were disabled in the service of the country. If this be the criterion for office, I left father and brothers on the field of battle who fell in defense of the Union, and because of their irreparable loss, my whole life aspirations and ambitions were forever disabled, even an education was obtained by a terrible struggle against fearful odds. The field of occupation for women is limited, though the harvesters are many. I respectfully ask your support on the ground of merit alone.

Mrs. M. E. LEASE.

To the Editor of the Eagle:

Please announce G. W. Steenrod as a candidate for Representative of the Third District, subject to the decision of the people at the polls.

Officer Joe Stewart is sick in bed.

Lilly took in four drunks yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. J. N. Forry has returned, after a two month's visit to the east.

El Davis, who has been sick with the typhoid fever, is now convalescing.

The north side wall of the Miller building on North Water street is commenced.

Officer Jennings won the fine shaving set raffled off last night at Herman's drug store.

Page Martin has returned from Kansas City with a fine line of cigars and tobaccos.

J. N. Killion of West Wichita, who has been very sick for some time, was out yesterday.

A street car and hack had a collision on Main street last evening, no great damage resulting.

Admission 25 cents to the Wellington Bell lecture at the Presbyterian church to-morrow evening.

Jake Cramer, the man injured by being thrown from a truck by a runaway team, is improving very fast.

Green & Thomas will tomorrow commence the brick work on the Getto building, corner of Main and Second.

Elder Everest, of Indianapolis, chancellor of the Garfield university, will move to this city in a few months.

Come to the Presbyterian church Monday evening and have your knotty problem made plain by Mr. Wellington.

Thomas Dundon was out on the streets yesterday for the first time in five weeks. He has been entertaining a malarial fever.

Lloyd Armstrong, one of the Southwestern Business college students, has accepted a position in the First Arkansas Valley bank.

Don't fail to attend the lecture at the Presbyterian church Monday evening by Prof. Fred Bell, the great English song lecturer.

J. W. Mouk of Lawrence, has rented the Innes & Ross building on North Main, and will use it for a restaurant, European style.

Ground is being broken for the new Butler block on South Main and it is expected that the foundation will be commenced Monday.

S. H. Nelson, of Quincy, Ills., will soon open a notion and variety store in the Alchick & Brown room, north of the court house.

Mr. W. E. Mitchell, in company with W. D. Parshall, called yesterday afternoon. Mr. Mitchell is connected with the Allen County Court.

The exterior work on Colonel Stewart's building on South Main at the corner of English is completed. It is a fine business building.

The foundation of the sister's academy is being rapidly pushed through and it is expected that it will be completed within fifteen days.

Dr. Hobbs, of Louisville, the matchless orator who has been attending the sessions of the Christian council, made the EAGLE a call yesterday.

Remember that those who miss hearing Mr. Wellington, the lightning calculator, at the Presbyterian church Monday evening, will lose a treat.

G. H. Baxter, of the C. & B. & Q. railroad; G. Conklin, traveling agent of the Vandalia; and Al Goodrich, of the O. & M., spent yesterday in the city.

In the show window of J. A. Talmadge & Co. is an elegant dinner set consisting of 135 pieces, from the famous Haviland manufactory at Limoges, France.

Prof. Bell is endorsed by the greatest and best people of the land, as well as by those of England. Don't forget to hear him at the Presbyterian church Monday evening.

The foundation of the Kos Harris building in rear of the State National bank is completed, and the iron posts to be used in the construction of the front have been put in place.

The K. of L. labor unions and laboring men generally will hold a meeting at the Memorial hall next Saturday night. A number of speakers are booked for the occasion.

The Root Bros. building on South Market has the brick work of the first story completed. Yesterday the workmen were engaged in putting up the elegant cut stone work of the front.

John Stout, of Mountville, O., who has been visiting in this section for some time, returned home yesterday, but not until he had in his pocket a deed for a fine farm in the Arkansas valley.

DESECTED.

Only a woman—I saw her stand,
With a letter held in a trembling hand;
And the face, a moment since so fair,
Was drawn and white, and a dull despair
Filled the eyes that before shown so bright.
With love, and trust, and faith's pure light.
Twas the same old story of trust betrayed;
Of a man's false heart by another swayed;
He writes "while you read I am far away,
Forgive me the wrong that I do today."
And she stood before us, strange and wild,
One cry of anguish, Oh, God! My child!

A sacred marriage that tells the tale
That led her down through the deep, dark vale:
For would they believe what a woman said!
Ah, no! And the wise world shook its head,
Yet greeted with outstretched hand the man
Who put on a fair girl's life this ban.

D. J. B.

DIED.

At the residence of her brother, Mr. John Leon on North Emporia avenue, at 5 o'clock yesterday morning, Miss Nellie Leon, in her 20th year, gentle, modest and unassuming. She was beloved by all who knew her. She was stricken about two weeks ago with quick consumption, and though everything that love and science could devise was done for her, it was useless. She calmly made all preparations for her departure, bidding her weeping friends "good night," with a blessed assurance that in a happier clime she would bid them "good morning."

"Another hand is becoming us,"
And the glow once more with angel steps
The path that reaches Heaven.

Fold her, Oh, Father! In thine arms:
Let Nellie henceforth be
A messenger of love between
Our human heart and Thine.

And grant that she who left us with
The fading summer flowers,
May welcome to her holier home
The well-beloved of ours.

Requiescat in eternum. The funeral will take place from the Catholic church at 10:30 o'clock a. m. Friends of the family are invited.

Mr. J. S. Shane died last evening, at the residence of Mrs. E. D. Munn, corner of Washington and Second street. The deceased came here a few months ago from Cleveland, Ohio. He had been sick for some time and hoped by coming west to regain his health.

WHERE.

To the Editor of the Eagle:

Where, Oh! where, was Jewett, Carpenter, Lawrence Hatfield Wright and the little army that surrounds the county building in an official capacity, and otherwise; where, Oh! where were they when the grand Republican rally came off in Garfield hall last evening? The echo of Abe Smith's bass drum answers, where!

A NEW MAP.

Major, Wiggles is getting up a new map of the city. The part of the city south of Douglas avenue will be placed upon a canvas about four feet wide and eight feet long. All of the city north of Douglas will be placed upon another canvas. The scale used is so large that it was thought best to divide the map. It is now nearly completed and the large scale used gives ample space to allow everything to be marked on it plainly.

The Major proposes to introduce a new feature. He is preparing a number of pen pictures of some of the nicest residences of the city and they will ornament the outside of the map. Among others is the residence of Mr. J. A. Jones, which draws out compliments from all who see it.

IT WENT OFF.

Friday evening the parents of a young lady living on South Main being from home, she invited a young lady friend to remain with her over night.

She was not afraid; no, indeed, and was bravely showing to her friend before retiring a fine revolver with which they would protect themselves, when the firearm was accidentally discharged, the ball passing through the wall. They dropped it in dismay, and gave a little scream that were not confined within the limits of the room.

For a long time the two previous revolver lay upon the floor untouched. Finally one made bold enough to pick it up tenderly and put it away carefully where it would do the least harm.

This explains a pistol shot that startled some residents in this vicinity.

HOMOEOPATHIC MEETING.

The homoeopathic physicians met at the office of Dr. Minick, last night, and organized the Society of Homoeopathic Physicians and Surgeons of Sedgewick County. The following officers were elected: President, W. A. Minick; vice-president, M. A. Pratt; secretary and treasurer, L. S. Ordway.

There were present Doctors W. A. Minick, M. A. Pratt, W. D. Johnson, J. J. Stoner, E. A. Whitlock, A. J. Carpenter, L. S. Ordway, C. E. Martin.

Regular meetings will be held on the first and third Tuesdays of each month. The next meeting will be Tuesday night, October 13, at which meeting an essay will be read by E. A. Whitlock, subject "Typhoid Fever." All homoeopathic physicians in the county are invited to join the society. Until further notice meetings will be held in Dr. Minick's office.

ATONEMENT DAY.

Yesterday was the Jewish day of atonement and it was appropriately celebrated by services at the G. A. R. hall. Beside an able and instructive address by Rabbi Guttmacher, of Cincinnati, O., there was some fine singing by a choir of chosen voices.

The services were of a memorial character; prayers were offered for the dead friends of members of the church, special respects being paid to the memory of Rabbi Gothern, who died during the year at New Orleans.

A fast day having commenced at sunset on the preceding day, the business houses of Jewish merchants were closed.

SURPRISED.

Friday evening, Rev. Harmon, the popular pastor of the Emporia Avenue church, was, on the occasion of his moving into his new home, the paragon on South Emporia, treated to a most delightful surprise and donation party.

Shortly after dark his friends to the number of sixty or seventy, entirely without any previous knowledge to him of their coming, knocked at the door. The reverend gentleman, however, was equal to the occasion, invited them in and extended a most hearty welcome. The evening was highly enjoyed by all present.

TOO MUCH FOR THEM.

Last night about 12 o'clock a boy was selling wicker wares on the street for a North Main restaurant.

As he was coming down the street and when near the A. D. T. office three toughs set upon him with the evident intention of enjoying a free lunch. The little fellow, however, turned upon his assailants and used them so roughly that they took refuge in flight, disappearing down the alley, without obtaining any of the coveted sausage.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

The Two Johns crowded the opera house last evening, and if applause and laughter be any evidence the comedy must have been a success.

The play is almost without plot, and the interest is kept up by the amusing incidents and adventures that befall two fat men who bear a striking resemblance to each other.

SETTLED.

The insurance companies in which Messrs. Larimer and Stinson held policies have made a satisfactory adjustment of the losses resulting from the fire.

The store room is now being refitted and arranged for the display of their new stock of goods, which they hope soon to open to the inspection of the public.

Commencing Wednesday, 13th, they will offer for sale in the new Stackman building on Main street great bargains in all kinds of dry goods.

They invite attention to their advertisement on the second page.

We find some of our people inclined to favor a union depot. A union depot is a convenient arrangement and saves some annoyance, but we question their advisability.

Wichita has now some twenty-eight coming and going trains, in fact the railway center of the state, with at least a half dozen more to be added within a year, and a union depot would prove a lively center. But a union depot, while giving an idea of the amount of travel pertaining to a city, affords no opportunity for travelers to see a city. The transfers, backs, street cars and busses, which a half dozen stations demand for the handling of passengers, add largely to the life of a city. Wichita has five passenger stations now and will have two more within a year. To handle the passenger business a number of hacks, busses and street cars are employed and the number will increase unless a union depot is decided upon.

To the Editor of the Eagle:

The pioneer woman of the equal suffrage cause will hold a convention in this city. Susan B. Anthony, Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Elizabeth Lisle Saxon, Mrs. Cobby and other representative women will speak on the living issues of the day. They are devoting their time, their strength, their fine eloquence, their noble womanhood to the uplifting and upbuilding of humanity in the emancipation of their sex from social and political bondage, and they should be encouraged by the presence and the sympathy and hearty co-operation of all who wish to see wrong doing abated and goodness, sobriety, truth and virtue made paramount. Turn out everybody to hear and welcome these noble women.

The following students entered the Business college during the past week: Elton Watkins, Kingman; F. B. Clark, Cleveland, Ohio; R. B. Baker, Booneville, Ind.; Charles Kohn, Leavenworth; James Riley and Mary Riley, Jefferson, Ohio; Percy Glace, Macon, Mo.; C. A. Bright, C. L. Kennedy, John Herburger, C. G. Lilly, Loritta Quinell, Leonard Quinell, Milo Quinell, Wm. Snitzer, W. Storm, H. Francis, of Wichita.

The trade of the city yesterday was very heavy, especially in the retail lines, several establishments reporting sales from $800 to $1,000 each. Surrounding cities were largely represented by purchasers and shoppers in the dry goods, millinery, clothing and notion lines. The jobbers in groceries, hardware and furniture lines were reasonably busy. Altogether it was more than an ordinary busy day with our trade circles.

Mr. Bell's lectures are not of the musty order, and are not only instructive but at the same time amusing. He has the happy faculty of giving his audience a concert and lecture both at the same time. The beauty of all is his enunciation is clear and distinct, whether he is speaking or singing. It is to be hoped that he will favor us again.—Oconomowoc (Wis.) Independent.

Tom McNamara has been quite a frequent witness in criminal cases of late. First, the counterfeiters' case at Topeka; then, the case against Vogel and Bowen, who broke into Kate's store, and yesterday, against Charles Grutzmacher, the alleged robber of Rosier. The last three were all Tom's arrest.

Some of those interested in the new street railway company say that they will run a north and south line east of the Santa Fe track, provided they are allowed the privilege of running anywhere. That large district without a north and south outlet seems to strike them favorable.

As an item of information to the Wichita friends, we will state that when the Wichita EAGLE man hooked a four and a half pound bass, for the first time, it took two men to keep him in the boat.—El Dorado Republican.

But the EAGLE man, all the same, landed the four and a half pounder safely in the boat.

A greater number of new and heavy business firms will open out in Wichita within the next thirty days than have opened out in any city in the state for the entire year. To verify this just notice the signs posted in front of the many new rooms now being finished.

Mr. Petrie, who is a member of the Two Johns company, and who played so acceptably last night, is a brother of Mrs. Jennie P. Merchant, of Peotone, this county. Maggie Elsie, another bright, noticeably bright performer is Mr. Petrie's wife.

The Hesperian society will meet at the lecture room of the Presbyterian church Monday evening to organize for the winter's work. All who wish to join the society for literary work will please be present at 7:30 p. m.

Mrs. A. Saylor, who is visiting in Paris, Canada, writes to her son in this city that it has been snowing up there for some days, and as a result of the cold weather she will start for the sunny clime of Wichita in a short time.

The old postoffice room has been repaired, and is now ready for the desks of the Santa Fe office. Their quarters at the Sweeney & Douglas drug store will be taken by Block & Co.'s railroad ticket brokers.

The red-headed, roan-bearded roarer of the Wichita EAGLE was over this way during the week trying to coax the bass to bite. He didn't start out on Sunday as some of our El Dorado fishermen do.—El Dorado Times.

He wasn't so brought up.

Our entire editorial space is given up this morning to the very able address of Chancellor Everest, which will be read with pleasure by thousands of people, and with special interest by Christian teachers and educators.

The following persons from Belle Plaine remained over night in the metropolis: G. E. Meeker and wife, L. A. Broadhead and wife, J. O. Reed and wife.

H. G. Seelye, a pleasant and accomplished young man from Connecticut, is in the city. He expects to remain and go into the practice of dentistry.

SEVENTH DAY ADVENTISTS.

Observances of the Sabbath on the Camp Grounds Yesterday.

Yesterday was a very busy day at the camp meeting on the West side. As this sect observe the last day of the week instead of the first, it was their Sabbath; and, the whole day was devoted to religious meetings.

Morning devotional services were called by the ringing of the bell at 6 o'clock; afterwards at 8 o'clock was the family devotions in the tents of the members.

Immediately afterwards the Sabbath school commenced and continued until 10:30 when the forenoon religious exercises were held. The address was delivered by Elder Cook. A short conference took place and at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Rule Hill, of Grenola, delivered a very interesting and instructive address.

At 4 o'clock Elder John Gibbs, of Ottawa, spoke to the people. At the evening service Elder Bagby spoke on the subject of the law of God. His text will be found in Psalm cxix, 19: "Thy word is true from the beginning; and every one of thy righteous judgments endureth forever."

In this psalm the inspired writer refers more than one hundred and seventy-five times to the law that God himself came down upon Mt. Sinai and spoke to all the children of Israel amidst thunderings and lightnings that greatly terrified the people, "and he added no more"—Deut. v, 22.

He also wrote them on tables of stone and delivered them to Moses, and he brought them down and put them in an ark prepared for that purpose.

Deut. 10:4, 5, inspiration says it was the writing of God. The psalmist says, the law of the Lord is perfect; Ps ix, 7. In Psalm cxix, 142, he says, thy law is the truth. So it is truth, and it is perfect. That this law has always been binding is easily shown. The Apostle Paul says, where there is no law, there is no transgression; Rom. iv, 15. And the Apostle John says that sin is the transgression of the law; First John, iii, 4. Then, whenever any one has committed sin, it is evident that that there was a law which was transgressed. Consequently when we read these principles were violated and thereby sin committed, we know that the law had a binding existence. In Gen. iv, the sixth command was violated; in Gen. xxxi, the eighth; in Gen. xxxv we learn that the second command was binding; in Exodus xvi, we learn that the fourth command was binding. All of this before the Israelites ever saw Mt. Sinai.

In Genesis 35:5 we read that Abraham kept the commandments of God.

The prophet Isaiah spoke in regard to Christ saying that he would magnify the law.—Isa 42:21. To magnify a law would certainly be to make it more comprehensive than it had appeared.

So in harmony with this declaration of the prophet we find Christ in his first recorded sermon showing that the law takes hold of the thoughts and interests of the heart.—Matt. 5:27, 28.

In verses 17 and 18 Christ declares that he did not come to destroy the law or the prophets, but that till heaven and earth pass away one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law till all be fulfilled. As the prophets are not all fulfilled yet, the law is certainly still binding.

When Christ was asked by a young man what he should do that he might have eternal life, he replied keep the commandments.—Matt. 19:16, 17. The apostle Paul teaches in the second chapter to the Romans brethren that the law will be the rule by which we shall be judged.

He then refers in verses 21-24 to three of four of the commandments, so we can not be mistaken in regard to the law to which he refers.

In the third chapter of Romans he showed that we acknowledge the law to be binding by exercising faith in Christ. Romans 3, 31.

In the seventh chapter he says in verse 12 "that the law is holy," and in verse 22 he says "I delight in the law of God."

The Apostle James says that if we break one of the commandments we are guilty of all, and that we shall be judged by this law. James 2:8-12.

The wise man says in Eccl 12:13, 14 that to fear God and keep his commandments is the whole duty of man, and then refers to the judgment as the reason why we should obey God. Thus the law of God is prominently set forth in all revelation.

An no less so in the last book of the bible, and even in the last chapter we read "Blessed are they that do his commandments that they may have right to the tree of life, and enter in through the gates into the city. The meetings are well attended, and of an interesting character.

The grounds have been carefully cleaned, and every convenience has been made for members and visitors. A neat reception tent for ladies has been erected where all so wishing may rest or await the commencement of the meetings. The meeting today will be devoted to the discussion of Sunday and Sabbath observance, as reviewed from a biblical standpoint.

DISTRICT COURT.

The time was taken up yesterday with the case of State vs. Guttmacher.

The defendant was indicted for robbing John P. Rosier of $475. When arrested by Officer McNamara July 30th, $250 was found upon his person and $140 in his house. The indictment charged him with cutting the coat and taking the money from the pocket of Rosier. Dale and Reed represented the defendant, and Col. Balderson the state.

The witnesses called for the state were John P. Rosier, the prosecuting witness; Officer McNamara, who made the arrest, Officer Marlatt, Fred A. Sowers and S. S. Bottoms.

The defendant was himself put upon the stand by his attorneys, and his version of the affair is very different. He says he met Rosier in the evening and they went in several saloons, drinking in each one of them. Afterward they went to the beer garden and talked about going into the saloon business. Rosier here handed over to him the money for this purpose. The defendant then left his companion and coming home gave $140 of his money to his wife and the remainder he intended to return to Rosier the next day. It was while looking for him that Officer McNamara made the arrest. He told the officer that he had earned the money while working for the government, because he had been warned by Rosier himself to keep the negotiations regarding the saloon business a secret.

After hearing this testimony court adjourned until Monday, when the case will again be taken up.

ATTENTION.

The members of Warwick Lodge Knights of Pythias, are especially requested to attend the meeting Monday evening, Oct. 11, 1886, to assist in work in the second. The weather is now cool, and there is no reason for the members not attending promptly at 7:30 o'clock.

JUSTICE COURT.

John Wagner was given a hearing yesterday in Walker's court on the complaint made against him by L. Jett, who charged him with stealing a bush-hammer valued at $4.50. On hearing the evidence the court placed on the defendant a bail of $100, and failing to raise the same was committed to jail until February court.

Some civil business was transacted by Judge Walker, none of which, however, was of special importance.

IN THE PROBATE COURT.

Yesterday was another very active day in the probate court.
